DESIGNER FRANK
PONTERIO ON WHY
JAMB'S OVINGTON LIGHT
PENDANT WARMS HIS
AESTHETIC SENSIBILITIES

TEXT LUIS R. RIGUAL

THE DESIGNER: Frank Ponterio

THE OBJECT: The Ovington light fixture by Jamb

THE STORY: Hand-finished in solid bronze and curved glass, the Ovington is a hanging lantern of squat circular form with a central band decorated with flower heads and scrolling foliage. The fixture features an aged patina that makes it ideal for traditional settings—or to strike a note of design discord in a modern environment.

IN HIS WORDS: “The intricacies are a feast of interconnected details. Notice the multiple, yet very subtle, wave motifs running through the top and mid fixture. They are over the top and restrained at the same time. I have a pair of them hanging in my Naples office, so I get to enjoy them daily.” frankponterio.com; jamb.co.uk
